Fairy Summoning Poem

Oh Friend of the wind, daughter of the water, sprite of the night, and queen of all green!

We are believers of magic, and spreaders of joy!
Fantastical creatures, each girl and each boy

We laugh in the moonlight, and dance in the sun,

We radiate beauty, and kindness, and fun!

So come tiny creatures, come out and play!
Come join us to dance on this beautiful day!

Read Aloud And Follow Directions

Think now of your favorite treat, something delicious you love to eat, and imagine taking yummy bites, and sharing with the friendly sprites!

Now think about your favorite day, a time you laughed or sang or played, or something silly that you love, and gaze into the sky above,

Now say aloud a funny word, or goofy thing you've said or heard, then hold your nose and spin around and shout out loud your silly sound!

Now smile and say the name of someone you love, and give yourself a big hug!

You've made the fairies very happy, now go have some fun!
